SUPERINTENDENT JOHN R. COX

The school year of 1954-55 has brought a new and interesting event to us. We are now a four year high school and occupying a beautiful new building.

A school year is made up of many things — classes, games, competition, friendships, fun and club work — and the wise student shares in all of these. It is a constant goal of our school to give a sound fundamental education while encouraging participation in a varied program of activities. The realization of this goal needs your co-operation.

We all join in extending to the seniors our best wishes and support in their endeavors in the future. To those who are coming back to school next fall, we urge you to take full advantage of the opportunities available and make these final years your busiest and happiest.

Senior Class Advisers- Mrs. Mabel Ehrlich and Mr. Adelbert Hackert.

Senior Class History

Looking back upon three successful years, the class of 1955 can claim both victories and defeats. It has been the first to make tradition and the last to break it.

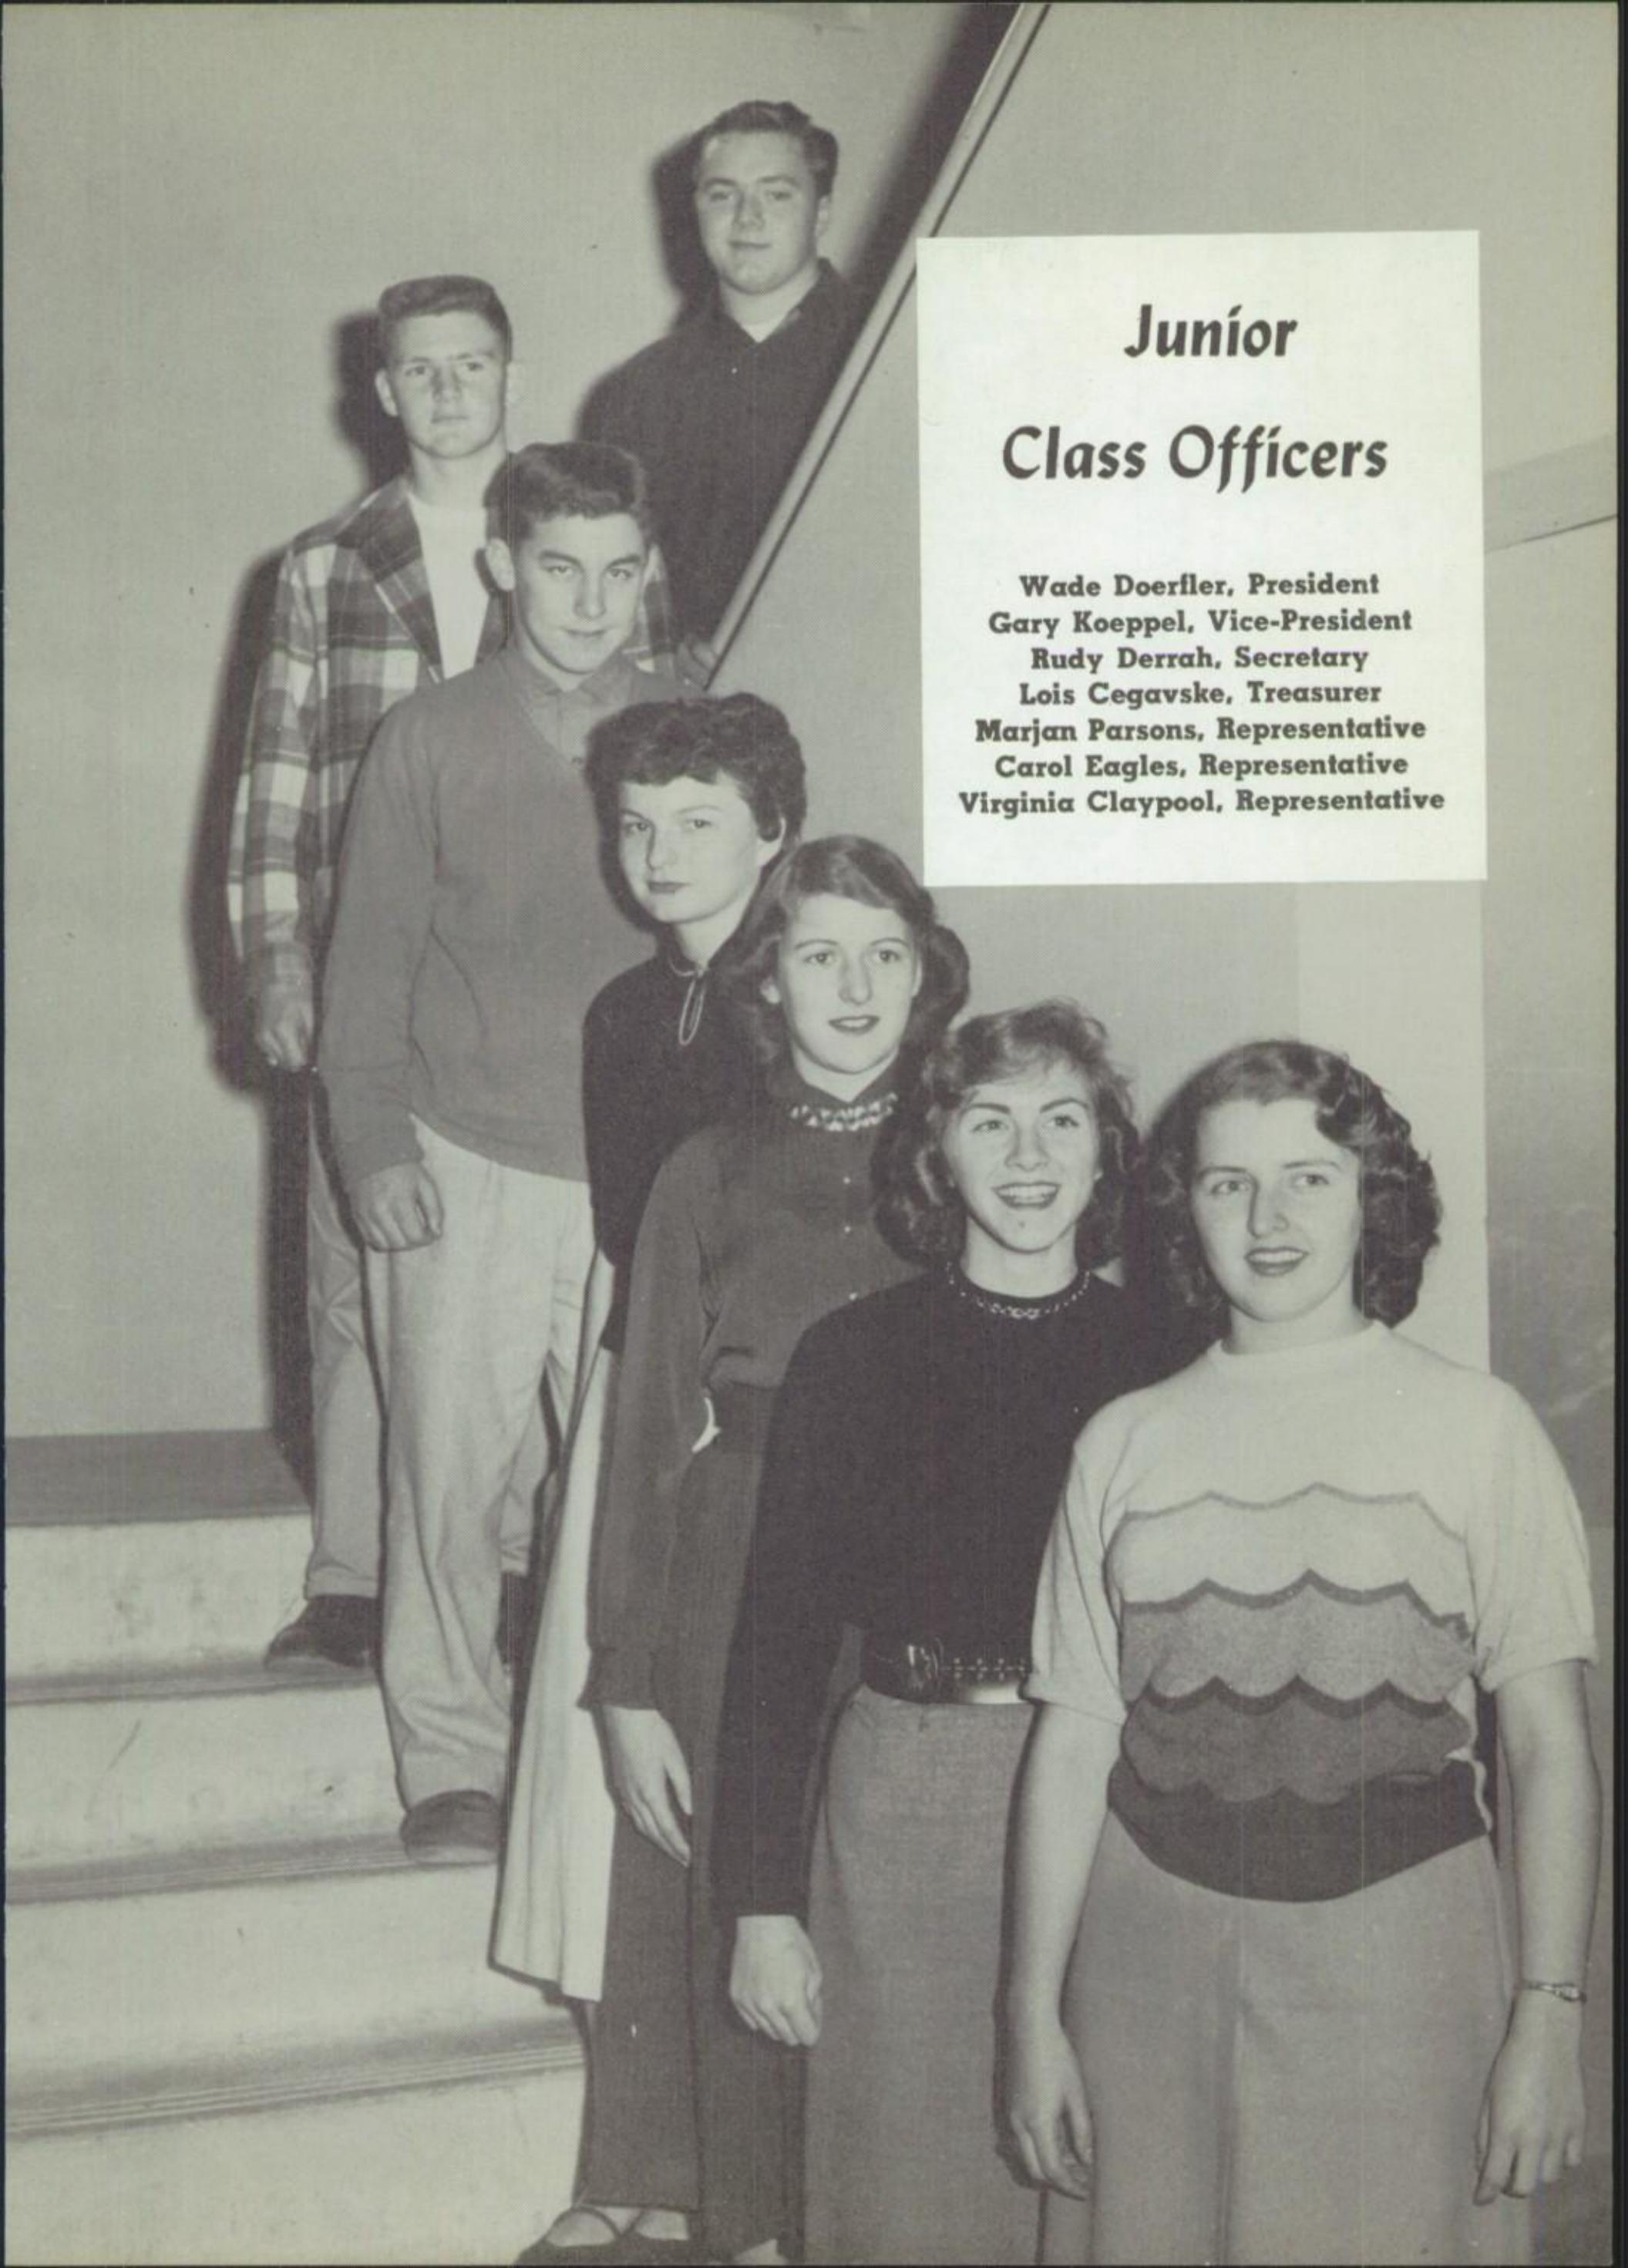

In their sophomore year, under the leadership of Pete Wilfert and the guidance of Nancy White and Bill McCammon, class members leaped over the tortures of initiation and darted off to a bounding start.

Many of the seniors will remember the balloons that cluttered the halls, the stacks of clothing that brought the class second place in the competitive clothing drive, the sophomore assembly with the presentation of the play, "The Little Red Schoolhouse," and finally "Vienna," the class act which took third place.

Under the leadership of Ted Aberson and advice of Bill McCammon and Mrs. Mabel Ehrlich, the junior year was even more prosperous. A smash hit play, "Going Places," was presented in the spring. First prize in class acts was taken with the presentation of "Hour of Destiny," and the Junior-Senior Prom with its "Aloha" theme was a great success.

Ted Aberson was again elected to lead the class in its greatest year. Because of the departure of Bill McCammon, the class once again changed advisers, and Mr. Hackert joined Mrs. Ehrlich in guiding the class. "The Dark House," senior class play, was presented and although it ran only one night, provided the financial backing for "Snowflake Flurry," the Christmas Prom.

Graduation ended the three exciting high school years of the class of 1955. Making and breaking records right up to the last day, the class of 1955 became the first to graduate from the new school.

Activities

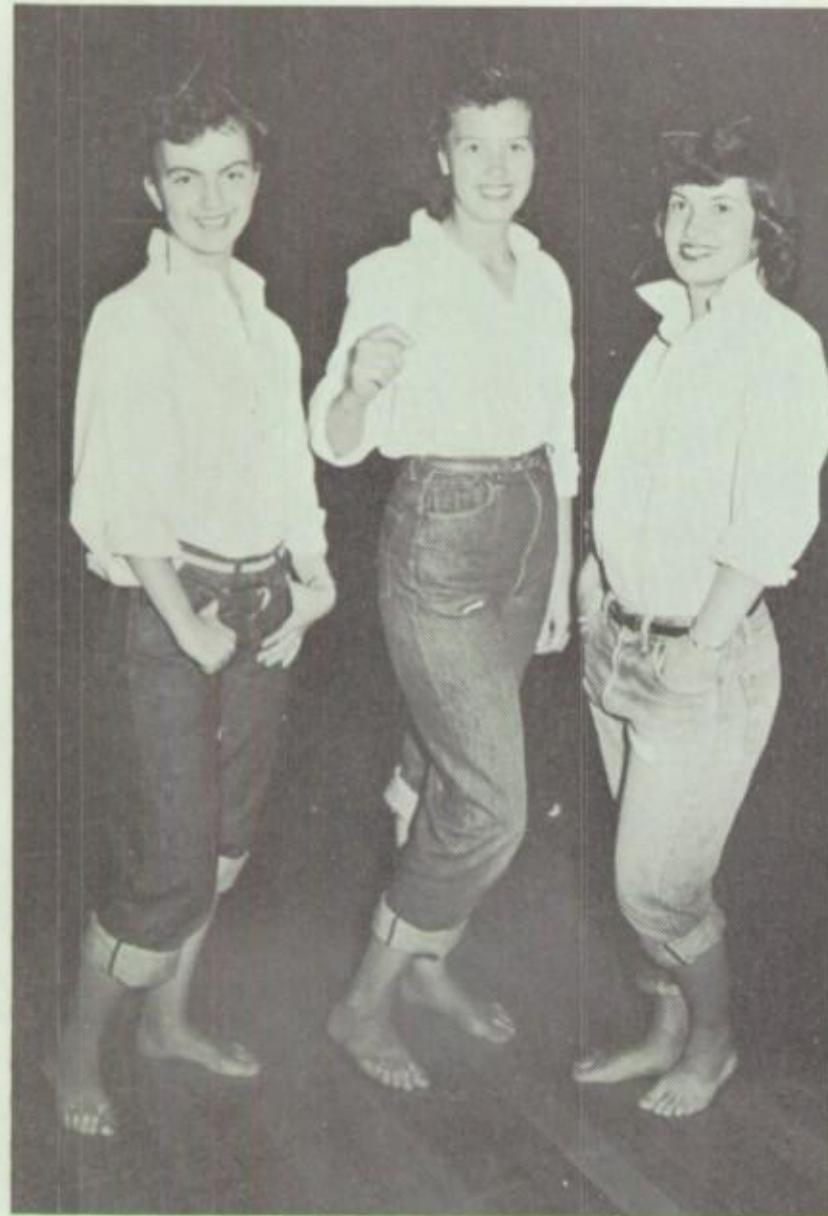

Registration

"Line forms to the rear" was the password as the first students to use the new high school registered for the 1954-55 school year. Summer's hard-earned money was put into the school's coffers to pay for such items as books, student body cards, the paper, and the annual. Then class schedules were made out, followed by the inevitable changes. It was quite an experience for the freshmen and sophomores, and even some of the upperclassmen found registration confusing.

Big Sister Party

A "get-acquainted" party for all AUHS girls was given by the 17 members of the Girls League Cabinet the latter part of September. Each junior and senior girl selected a little sister from the freshman and sophomore girls. Punch and doughnuts were served and a program presented by cabinet members while the girls became acquainted.

Corvallis Cremated

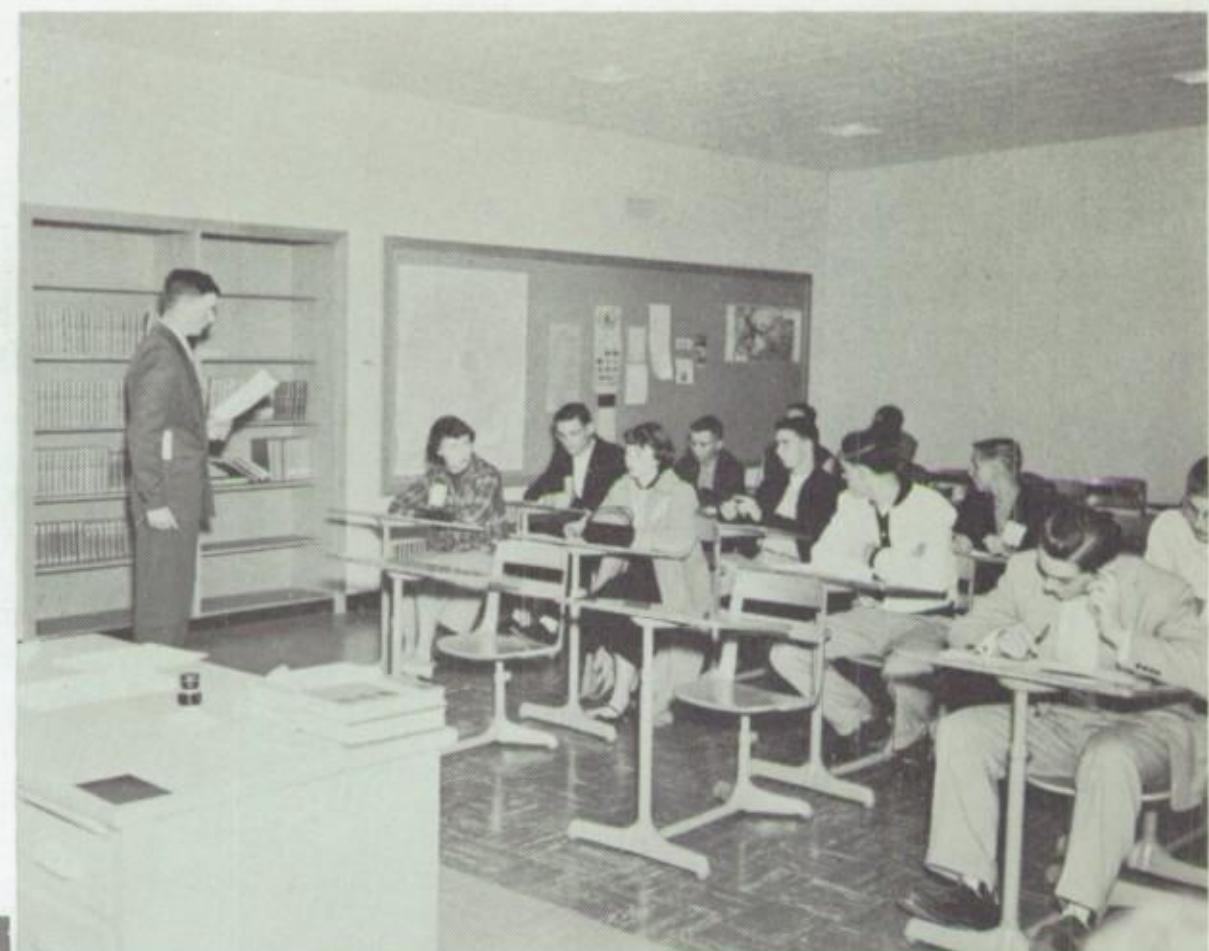

Bulldog spirit was at its highest when the traditional rally for the Albany-Corvallis football game was held Thursday night, November 4. The Spartans were burned at the stake, and an exciting time was enjoyed by everyone. About 300 students attended and contributed to the fun.

Problems and Prospects

Problems that student bodies are facing, and possible solutions to these problems were discussed at the 1954-55 meeting of the Region IV Oregon Association of Student Councils. Approximately 300 students representing 60 schools attended the meeting held at Albany Union High School, Saturday, October 31. Region President Sam Burch, who is Albany student body treasurer, conducted the meeting.

Snowflake Flurry

Sweet music and the scent of evergreen at the Snowflake Flurry make a memorable Yule!

Christmas Assembly

One of AUHS's traditions is the filling of baskets with food donated by students for needy families of the community. At the close of the Girls League sponsored Christmas Assembly on December 23, the 48 baskets were brought on stage. In the picture below, Mrs. Santa, played by Mrs. Gretchen Walker, and Santa Claus, Adelbert Hackert, beam over the colorfully decorated baskets.

Girl's League Carníval

Step right up and get a bargain!

I'd walk a mile for one of those cakes.

Christmas Pageant

"Why the Chimes Rang," one portion of Albany High's Christmas program which was presented the evening of December 20, was a successful combining of the talents and efforts of four departments—speech, music, home economics and commercial. The touching story was brought to life by realistic medieval costumes, impressive choral music and sensitive performances.

Junior Class Assembly

Reminiscences of an old park groundskeeper, played by John Brown, was the theme of the Junior Assembly, presented December 20. Charleston dancers, quartets and trios, a marimba player, and an accordion player, all members of the junior class, came through the park and provided entertainment for visitors in the park.

Liberace decided to put on a vaudeville show for AUHS students, so he gathered the talents of many seniors and presented fine acts from all parts of the world. From Italy came the mambo, from gay Paree, the can-can, and from the hills of Tennessee, Paupaumortaworxop and Sam. Lee's silent partner, George, provided additional entertainment. Portraying the smiling pianist was Dick Crooks, and Jim Cowgill played George.

Annual staff workers faced the usual headaches of trying to get everyone's picture in the annual plus deadlines. In spite of a busy schedule, staff members had the opportunity to tour the Your Town Press to see the various stages an annual page must pass through before it is printed.

Another important event was the Oregon Scholastic Press Conference at the University of Oregon which Roy Parsons and Janet Thurber attended.

"The staff has enjoyed publishing another yearbook for the Student Body. We sincerely hope that the Annual will prove to be a permanent record of your friends and good times during your 1954-1955 school year at AUHS."

One of the major projects in which FHA members participated this year was dressing dolls for the Fire Department at Christmas. Under the supervision of Miss Helen Barton and Mrs. Phyllis Meyers, members served at banquets, organized a Halloween party and skating party, and sold candles. Officers were Norma Yearsley, President; Sharon Wood, Vice-President; Shirley Turnidge, Secretary; and Harriet White, Treasurer. Chapter Mothers were Mrs. Herbert Wood, Mrs. Leo Michale, and Mrs. Alice Mercer.

Debate

Windy and witty—that's the debate class—a group of fast talking, quick thinking students. To earn money to finance trips, debate sells ads for football programs, involving many hours of walking and talking. Members attended the Pacific University Debate Tournament in which Dick Crooks took first place in serious interpretation. In February debaters journeyed to Linfield College to participate in the Nation's largest high school debate tournament. This year Bill Barrett was named outstanding speaker in Student Congress, and Mary Ann Brockley took first in the senior division of women's serious declamation. The class also attended a debate tournament at Willamette University in March.

STATE FARMERS

Ron Pittman and Ralph Wilcox

Albany Union High has the third largest high school agricultural department in the state and has 70 F.F.A. members. This year members won many state and national honors. Among these were the Master Chapter Award and Farm Safety Award of $100 at the State Convention. David Harnish was one of the four American Farmers chosen from Oregon, and Ralph Wilcox and Ron Pittman were elected State Farmers.

Other activities included a father and son banquet at which two hundred were present, serving at F.H.A. banquets, and participating in swimming parties. During the year 22 members showed at state and local fairs.

Hi-y

One of the most active organizations in Albany Union High is the Hi-Y Club. The purpose of this club is to "create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." To further this goal the club attends a different church each month. Hi-Y sponsors the annual Whiskerino, where the boy with the thickest five o'clock shadow is awarded an appropriate prize. Other activities of Hi-Y this year included the selling of concessions at football and basketball games and swimming parties at O.S.-C. Hi-Y's special project this year was the organization of the "Shirt-tail Section" at basketball games, where Hi-Y members wore white shirts.

G. A. A.

One of the largest and most active organizations in school is G.A.A. The much anticipated event which members give each spring is the Spinster Skip. This year 110 couples attended the "skip" which was held in the cafetorium on March 25.

Under the advisership of Morna Chadwick, regular activities include monthly pot luck dinners and bowling, golf, biking and hiking. Trips were made to other schools and the coast. Intramural teams played speedball, badminton, basketball, table tennis, soccer, and softball. Twenty-five volleyball teams were formed which included 85 per cent of the G.A.A. members.

To raise money the girls sell candy, pop and other items at games.

Band

Under the able direction of Darle West, the AUHS band and orchestra made many local and out of town appearances this year. The band's first public appearance was at the high school dedication. Members participated in the tri-school band concert at Lebanon and scored a hit at the Christmas program by playing to a full house.

Along with several other schools in the area, the band attended Dr. Goldman's Band Clinic and the Eugene Band Jamboree. During the year several solo contestants were chosen for the Solo-Ensemble Contest held in Monmouth in March.

The orchestra appeared in Christmas, mid-winter, and spring concerts and several other programs.

The fighting Bulldogs, sparked by Coach Bud Gibbs, ended the 1954 season with four wins and five losses. In his first year at Albany High, Coach Gibbs introduced new plays, split-T formation and the system of having team members elect co-captains weekly on their week's record of sportsmanship and skill.

The traditional Corvallis - Albany game brought the season to an exciting close although the Bulldogs were defeated by a score of 7 to 6.

Ending the season with one of the best records in Albany's junior varsity history, Stan Keller and Bob Scott, co-captains for the Bull-pups, led the team to an unprecedented record. Coach Chuck Kerr had a new in wins and losses for their team — five wins, two ties and one loss.

With the addition of freshmen to AUHS, a freshman team has been added with Mal Malouf and Bob Warren as coaches. Like the B team, the freshmen were way out in front, winning five of their six games and tying their sixth.

Starting the season with five wins before losing, Captain Pete Wilfert, Don Stamps, Jerry Hazelwood, Terry Emmons, returning lettermen, led the team in a winning streak of fourteen straight wins, going through district before the loss to Eugene in the second game of the State Tournament.

Don Stamps reached his peak during the State Tournament, being second in tournament scoring with 101 points. His efforts, along with others, won Albany fourth place in the state.

With twenty-three wins and only five losses, our team deserves a hearty thanks from everyone.

During this time teams have been to state three times, winning one first place and one second place. Returning lettermen are Blaine Faulkner, Pete Wilfert, Jerry Hazelwood, Don Stamps, Eugene Fox, Bruce Ridinger, Jerry Roth, Dave Ludlow, Roger Shortridge, and transfer, Bill Cotman.
